WATCHING THE CASH—Barry Baumann, a new inventory control officer at the Romulus Department of Public Works, has been assigned to cut down on loss of equipment. He's in charge of "checking in" new shipments at the repair shops, doling out allotments for the various jobs in the DPW and keeping tight track of the gasoline usage in the city, to both save money and avoid waste. Among his innovations is a type of city "credit card" system for gasoline which checks the fuel out to drivers on a per truck basis.—Romulus Roman photo.

Liquor board orders Troutt to sell lounge

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The ownership of Terry's Lounge in Romulus will have to change hands soon.

The lounge, currently under the ownership of Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt, has been ordered sold by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC), or face a revocation in May of the liquor license owned by Troutt.

"I knew when I was elected mayor that I would have to get rid of the lounge," Troutt said earlier this week. "I've been working on it, but have had some difficulty in obtaining a fair price on the place."

TROUTT HAS operated the lounge on Middlebelt and Northline roads since 1963, when he obtained a liquor license from the former Romulus Township Board of Trustees.

"At that time, I built it as social security and a retirement fund," he said. "I have no pension coming."

The 54-year-old mayor had worked for the old Kaiser Frazer Corp. until the old plant in Ypsilanti closed down in the late 1940's.

At that time, he was out of a job and without any pension credits.

HE JOINED forces with a Democratic coalition which swept into office in the mid-50s, the time he first took the Romulus Township supervisor's post.

His election coincided with elections in Nankin Township and Taylor which entrenched the Democrats in Western Wayne County.

"I had intended to operate the lounge after I left public office in 1964," Troutt said.

"And I did, until I decided to run for mayor."

"Now, it's been a good year since I've been behind the bar, and I've had a manager running the place for me."

BUT, BEING the city's top legal officer, even though he does not oversee Romulus' police force which is operated by Wayne County, Troutt is in conflict with MLCC laws.

He's been offered three alternatives to avoid a conflict with state law at this time.

One is to sell, the other is to transfer ownership and the Mayor proposes road resurfacing

Romulus residents soon can kiss those "bumpy roads blues" goodbye.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt will be holding a preliminary study session on a $2 million 20-mile road resurfacing project he has proposed for the next paving season.

Troutt plans to pave half of the city's gravel roads with asphalt next season with a combination of state and city funds.

"WE HAVE to pave roads," he said. "And we'll have to get together to make a determination on how extensive of a plan we want."

"There won't be any official decision on the program, but we'll have an open frank discussion on the proposal."

Troutt said he would like to see the Romulus' road system improved with a "heavy asphalt" treatment, designed to make the roads last a

Multi-facet task force to light way for sports

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

A multi-faceted community task force in Romulus intends to "Light the Way" back to night-time sports in the city.

The task force, headed by businessmen and community leaders, intends to raise $100,000 to help light a softball diamond in Elmer Johnson Park, the Romulus High School football field, and possibly, a little league baseball diamond at the Johnson Park.

The project is backed by the Romulus administration, city council, recreation commission, school board, Veterans of Foreign Wars, VFW Auxiliary, Rotary Club, Progressive Club, Softball Club, Little League, Romulus Athletic Club, Kiwanis Club, Jaycees, Romulus Democratic Club, the Romulus Civil Defense, and area Boy Scout Troops, Cub Packs, churches and PTAs.

"THIS IS the first time that all of Romulus' service clubs have united together under one roof for a goal of positive community action," Mel Morgan said. "In setting this priority for our youths, we expect to put Romulus in the forefront of united community action."

"This is our community's first united effort, and has given us new optimism for Romulus."

The drive was kicked-off at a special meeting in the Romulus City Hall last week. More than 40 representatives of service clubs and the city government attended to discuss plans for lighting the field.

The first official function of the task force—to be known as the Romulus Sports Fund Development Committee, will be a "Light the Way Ball" scheduled for March 8 at the UAW Local 157 Hall, 29841 Van Born Rd., Romulus. Morgan is the task force chairman.

THE COMMITTEE hopes to raise $10,000 in the affair by selling 1,000 tickets for $10 apiece through fraternal clubs and city officials.

"We're hoping to have everything donated, from the hall to the food and drinks which will be on hand that night," Morgan said. The United Auto Workers Local has agreed to donate the hall for the night.

Donald Ellis representing the Romulus VFW Post 9568, will chair the dance committee.

In addition, the group intends to solicit donations from the many service clubs and to request funds from businesses.

"AT ONE time, we had nearly $25,000 pledged toward this project," Morgan said. "But the group raising the funds disintegrated before we could get any lights up."

"With the fantastic cooperation we've seen from every facet of the community, I anticipate much better response this time than we've ever had in the past."

Romulus last had lights available in 1958 at the Romulus Junior High School baseball field.

However, the system at the field was outdated and dismantled.

THE LIGHTS in that field were put up by the Romulus Jaycees in 1948.

Morgan said he expects the lighting of the field to help the city recreation program, by allowing participation by the whole community.

"Romulus is quite a baseball town, as evidenced by the fact that a majority of the community's residents participate either in the little league or adult baseball programs," he added.

"In the summer alone, with the field lighted in the night, we'll be able to accommodate more community residents than ever before."

PRESENTLY, baseball

groups from the community who may have to play at night utilize facilities in other cities.

"We have lagged behind by ignoring the situation," Morgan said.

"The proud display of our citizens in this community-wide effort makes Romulus and our citizens nothing less than dynamic."

Romulus officials push for lights on ballfields

Although energy is tight these days, officials involved in the Romulus "Light the Way" campaign to light a softball field and the Romulus High School football field are sure they can obtain enough electricity to brighten the community.

"If nothing else, people will save on gas by attending baseball and football events in Romulus, instead of other communities," said Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt. "I'm sure the amount of gas that is saved will far exceed the amount of energy needed to light the fields.

"At the same time, we won't turn lights on until 15-minutes before game time, just like the Tigers announced they would, to save energy."

At present, night-time sports events, involving Romulus High School and any of the Romulus baseball and softball teams, are held in neighboring communities, requiring Romulus residents to drive to view an event, according to Troutt.

Mel Morgan, the chairman of the task force seeking to light fields, added that energy isn't a "crisis item" at night anyway.

"I have two lights in my yard which I asked Edison to turn off," he said. "They said it would only waste energy, because more is made at night than needed."

Coal and steam generators designed to manufacture electricity by Edison can't be shut down during night-time hours.

County plans hearings on proposed tax hike

Area citizens will have an opportunity to give their opinions to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The board's general government committee, headed by Samuel Turner of Detroit, will host a series of public hearings on Wayne County Board Of Commissioners Chairman Robert FitzPatrick's request for a one-mill county tax increase for a "10-year $135 million war against crime."

The first hearing is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14 in the Westland City Hall, 36601 Ford Rd., Westland.

"WE'RE ATTEMPTING to inform the public that we're interested in their opinion on the millage," Turner said at a special press conference last week. "This is an attempt to obtain citizen feedback on the proposal."

The millage request, which possibly will be on the county election ballot in the spring or summer, will dangle $10.8 million annually before the taxpayers of the county in a "fair share" tax return program to individual communities.

The money—some 80 per cent of the amount collected by the county—will be offered back to individual communities on a formula taking

Formula may not meet fair share expectation

Although the break down of funds under the proposed Wayne County millage to fight crime, is termed "an 80-20 split" in favor of the communities, some cities in the county will fare worse than others in receiving the funds.

Belleville, Romulus and Van Buren Township will fall below the 80 per cent mark in the return of the funds. Huron Township almost will break even, and Sumpter Township will fare well under the "fair share" formula, proposed by Wayne County Board of Commissioners Chairman Robert FitzPatrick.

Under the formula, Romulus would fare the poorest, receiving a return of 65 per cent on the $187,000 it turns over to the county on a one-mill tax levy.

Romulus will receive $121,000 of the taxes it sends to the county.

Van Buren may fare a little better, obtaining slightly more than 65 per cent of the $105,000 it sends in, or $68,000 under the formula.

Belleville would receive 75 per cent of the $14,000 it sends to the county, a return share of $10,500 for the taxes it would collect.

Huron could have a "break-even" proposition under the formula, receiving 81 per cent of the $39,000 it collects or $32,000 from the county.

Sumpter is the only area community which would benefit, receiving 90 per cent of its $32,000 it would send to the county, or an allotment of $29,000.

AT THE DOOR—Romulus Camp Fire Girls will be scouring the neighborhoods this month in the annual candy sale which helps to finance the continuing Camp Fire program each year. Offering treats to area residents will be Camp Fire Girls such as (from left) Muriel Cleveland, 11, April Townsend, 9, Kelly Barnhart, 10.—Romulus Roman photo.

City to meet with Huron officials on drainage

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

It's possible that the spring of 1977 or 1978 won't find Romulus looking like the "Louisiana Bayou."

Officials of Romulus and Huron Township will meet tonight to discuss a comprehensive storm drainage program for the two communities which will feature a 200-foot wide "interceptor drain" running north and south between the Huron River and Van Born Road in Romulus.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt has called the meeting between the Romulus administration, and city council, the Huron Township Board of Trustees, Romulus' engineers and engineering consultants, legal advisors and bonding counsel to discuss what could amount to a $25 million comprehensive storm drainage program, which will benefit both communities.

'So, in the heavy rains and heavy thawing, water just sits in ditches.'

"THERE'S TALK now of improving the creeks draining Romulus through Taylor and into the downriver communities," Troutt said. "I've been informed by the county that the improvement, if implemented, would cost Romulus $17 million over many years, while not really helping the community."

The program, which calls for widening three basins, including the Ecorse Creek which flows through Romulus to Lake Erie, is in the discussion stage by the Wayne County Drain Commission.

If approved, the city would be committed to pay for its share—in effect "locking it in" to a program which calls for Romulus to pay regular maintenance bills for drains flowing through other communities, the mayor said.

"Our problem in Romulus is being at the end of the drainage basin for the Detroit River," he added. "We can improve our ditches all we want, but if the creeks carrying water to the river aren't improved, there's no place for the water to go."

"SO, IN THE heavy rains and heavy thawing, water just sits in ditches, waiting to run into the river when the other communities drain."

Troutt would like the city and the township to join in a mutual drainage effort which would see each maintain its own storm drainage system with millage, rather than paying the county "drain assessment."

"This plan has been in discussion for many years," he said. "But along the way it got stalled."

"I'd like to see it revived now, so we don't have to join with the county in the other project."

TROUTT HAS received preliminary word from the Wayne County Drain Commission to obtain jurisdiction over city drains—a move which will save the average homeowner money.

"Right now, every citizen pays a county assessment for drains based on acreage to be drained," the mayor said. "That means a farmer with 40 acres of land pays the same as a factory with a 40 acre parking lot."

"It's unfair, because the farmer's land absorbs water, while all the water from the parking lot runs into the storms, and burdens the system a great deal more."

"I'd like to see the city take over the system and charge for drain maintenance based on millage, so everyone pays based on their land's value, rather than on their acreage."

Huron sewer dispute reaching a stalemate

By DALE GOWING
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

Huron Township and the federal government are at a stand-off regarding a $167,750 grant for the installation of sewer line interceptors between Huron and Sumpter townships and the City of Flat Rock - and the issue may wind up snarled in the courts, officials said.

Huron Township supervisor George W. Moore may take the government and Wayne County to court to obtain the federal money and an additional $180,855 in state grants he claims are owed the township.

The county is Huron's grant agent and may be sued if it fails to clear the grants, Moore said.

ACCORDING TO the supervisor, the government promised $167,750 to the two townships and Flat Rock in 1967 to defray the cost of the sewer line construction, which was completed in 1969.

However, Sumpter backed out of the agreement in 1968 for financial reasons, leaving Huron and Flat Rock alone in the deal. The sewer connects with Sumpter, Moore said.

At that time, Wayne County approved the continuation of the project despite Sumpter's exit, he added.

In March of 1971, however, the federal government told Huron Township and Flat Rock that they would get 75 per cent of the grant because of Sumpter's financial non-participation in the sewer construction. Interceptors serve to tie-in several communities to a single sewer line.

Moore said he has been in contact with the President's office. Senators Robert P.

Griffin and Phillip A. Hart and Congressman William D. Ford on the matter, urging them to convince the government to allocate the full grant amount for the project.

"IF WE DON'T get all of the federal money we'll lose the state grants, too," Moore said.

The total amount Huron could go in the red is $348,605.

"The government cut the grant amount back in 1971 because it said the sewer project originally was labeled as a Tri-Community Sewer, and Sumpter's dropping out disqualified us for the full amount," Moore said.

Huron now is trying to get Sumpter to sign the contract as originally planned, to save the grant funds. However, Moore feels the government should pay up anyway.

"The federal government has made a commitment to us," said. "We did all it asked of us in completing the project, and now that it got what it wanted (the sewer installation) it doesn't want to pay for it."

"IT SEEMS so ridiculous. I've been working with Hart, Griffin and Congressman Ford over the issue but nothing is happening. If those three put their heads together they could resolve this thing in 15 minutes."

"Somebody's just afraid to make a decision."

Moore said the township would go to court and stay there until the matter is resolved.

"We have to exhaust every legal remedy available to us," he added. "We have to have that money, and if they're not willing to pay us, we'll go to court."

Moore said the township will meet with its attorneys this week to discuss the issue.

Cultural program set

The observance of Afro-American Heritage ethnic pride will be marked this weekend with speeches, music, films, food and entertainment at the International Institute in Detroit.

The culture program opens with a Saturday address by Detroit Councilman Ernest Browne. The weekend program will be held in the Institute's General Lectures Building, West Warren and Wayne Drive. Booths will remain open through Sunday. The Afro-American Heritage program is part of a series sponsored by the Institute. John G. Roundtree, of Romulus, serves as coordinator of the Afro-American program.

PTA asks end of time change

Immediate repeal of daylight savings time legislation has been recommended by the executive committee of the multi-million-member National PTA at a recent meeting in Chicago.

"Our concern for the safety of children has compelled the executive committee to take this emergency action," said Mrs. Lillie E. Herndon, National PTA president. "It is obvious that daylight savings time is a grave mistake, and we feel it should be repealed as soon as possible."

Mrs. Herndon said that children have been killed and injured as a result of traveling to school in the pre-dawn darkness. Many crossing guards also have complained they cannot see to help children safely across the street, she added.

The National PTA's coordinator of legislative activity, Mrs. Grace Baisinger, has been directed to inform congressional leaders of the PTA's position.

Wyandotte Savings Bank helps people

That's our job — helping people. And we do it in a surprising number of ways.

First, we provide all the usual services you expect from a full-service bank. We offer a good variety of checking and savings plans to fit every need. And we make all types of loans for all types of purposes to both individuals and businesses. We also provide safe deposit facilities, money orders, travelers checks and many other services.

Then we provide personal financial consultation for our customers. Thousands of people have come to us over the years seeking advice for their financial problems. We've always been happy to oblige. Sometimes we can't help. Most of the time we can.

And finally we provide something that's intangible and difficult to define. It's a special attitude toward people. We are friendly, but not syrupy. We are concerned with our customers' problems, but not pushy with possible solutions. We are sincere, but not solicitous. When you've been in the banking profession for over 100 years, you know from experience how people want to be treated.

It's really quite simple. Wyandotte Savings Bank helps people. You can bank on us.

County plans hearings on proposed tax hike

Half the money will be returned on a per-capita basis, with each community receiving approximately $2 per person, while the remaining money would be returned at a rate of approximately four-tenths of a mill.

THE REMAINING $2.7 million will be used to finance county crime-fighting programs now being operated with funds from the U.S. Law Enforcement Assistance Agency.

"We found out that our programs' funding will be running out within the next two years," Fitz Patrick said. "We're hoping for the millage in an effort to keep them going, and to provide more county crime-fighting support."

Huron Township Supervisor George Moore, chairman of the Wayne County Association of Township Supervisors, said the millage may help "small communities which are strapped with expenditures for crime fighting."

"I'm not offering a whole hearted endorsement for the program, until I see everything it entails," Moore said at the meeting. "But by and large, the program sounds good, especially for a township such as ours which spends 22 per cent of its annual budget ($65,000) on crime fighting and police protection."

FITZPATRICK cautioned that "this millage, if passed, may not be the panacea for crime prevention. But it should keep programs in successful operation. "Crime prevention has been a growing concern of the suburbs," he added. "It's a problem which transcends community lines and adds weight to the need for a regional police force."

The board chairman said: "Wayne County provides many services in this area" including the MetroSquad, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, the County Organized Crime Task Force and the Out-county Investigative Service.

"In the sheriff's department alone, we have increased the strength from 322 to 600 since 1969, and have increased the budget by 99 per cent," he added. "This shows the need for the millage."

FITZPATRICK also said the millage could be used to construct an out-county jail-courthouse facility proposed by the board of commissioners' architects more than a year ago.

"It's our goal to offer the best service possible, without duplication of services," Turner said. "Our intention in these hearings on the proposal is to avoid that, and to see what best serves the citizen's needs."

"We want all the input we can to make a determination whether this millage is desired, and to determine where the money can be used, if approved."

To ease flooding problems Officials discuss drain plan

The key to the program is that the drain interceptor is planned to parallel Harrison Road through Romulus to Huron Township, where it will continue to the Huron River.

The interceptor is planned to be a 200-foot wide basin with a gradual slope which would only fill in the most extreme storms.

"Most of the time, the storm water will run in two huge barrels at the bottom of the basin," he said. "In heavy rains the water will run through a secondary ditch just above the barrels.

"AND ABOUT once every 10 years when there really is heavy flooding, the entire basin would be needed to carry water."

"Until it's needed, the basin could serve as a parkland," Troutt likened the project to the Edward Hines Parkway through Westland and Livonia.

The parkway, located in the Middle Rouge River valley, serves as a picnic and recreation area a majority of the time, but in heavy spring floods it is utilized as a drainage basin by the county and blocked to traffic.

THE MAYOR would not estimate the cost of the entire project, but said the $17 million Romulus would be committed to in the county program to improve the present system would be "more than enough" to pay for Romulus' share of the new project.

And, the city would benefit in the long run, he added.

"If we don't have to carry the water so far to drainage in the Detroit River and divert it through Huron Township, we won't need our ditches to be as deep, and won't have the water standing as long," Troutt said. "Water would flow readily to the Huron River every time it rained.

"It'll mean Wayne County won't have to buy as much land for holding basins for the airport and possibly, that Romulus would get some of the existing holding basins back from the county."

TROUTT HAS invited representatives of the Wayne County Drain Commission and the Wayne County Road Commission—operators of the airport—to attend tonight's meeting.

Although he anticipates no formal decision, those in attendance will be asked whether they desire to proceed with the plan, or whether they favor the county plan.

Charging false advertising and poor construction, several residents of the 40-unit Lakepoint Village Condominium in Van Buren Township have initiated a $100,000 lawsuit against the builder of the residential project. The Michigan Department of Commerce Corporation and Securities Dividing in Lansing has notified the developer that the state is revoking his permit to sell the condominiums.

"In the long run, it's a money-saving feature, because now we spend 90 per cent of our road funds on gravel roads and chloride, leaving little money to take care of existing roadways," the mayor said. "If these roads are paved, we'd have lower maintenance bills and could distribute our funds more equitably throughout the city."

TROUTT SAID he intends to finance the paving program with $1 million from the city's major road fund, another $500,000 from the local road fund and a remaining $500,000 from the city's general fund. Three-quarters of the money would come from the city's gas and weight tax revenues from the state.

"If we want to go with asphalt, we'll have to move into it in the near future," Troutt said. "It's cheaper now and in good supply. But within four or five years the oil manufacturing plants may change over to eliminate the manufacture of asphalt in favor of making gasoline."

"Then we could be hurting. So, we have to get the material while it's in supply, to make sure all of Romulus' roads are paved."

"I've got discussions with prospective buyers this week, and one looks pretty good," added Troutt, who is asking

"ALL I KNOW is I don't want to violate the law," he said. "And, I've been making progress in selling the place—but some publicity given to me, and Coleman Young in Detroit, has placed pressure on us, and the liquor commission."

"It's justified, but it's not doing me any favors, because people know I've got to sell. They aren't willing to offer as much for the lounge as they would to an independent seller who didn't have a deadline."

Romulus adult ed registration open

Registrations for free adult high school classes are being accepted through Friday, according to Bill Smith, director of the Romulus Adult Education Program. Adults who wish to return to school are requested to contact the district's adult education office at 941-1600.

During the past 2½ years, 83 adults have received their diplomas from Romulus adult ed. Most adults find that they are closer to graduation than they think because credit can be awarded for non-classroom activities such as work and military experience, community involvement and GED test scores.

Recent census bureau studies indicate that the average high school graduate earns $75,000 more than a non-graduate, offering further encouragement for adults to return to school.

More than 500 people signed up for fall semester classes held at the senior high school on Monday through Thursday nights.

A record number of fall semester graduates received their diplomas at a graduation banquet Jan. 24.

Tire chains provide traction during Mother Nature's 'fury'

Most Western Wayne County drivers get stuck at one time or another during the winter in deep snow or on icy pavements.

The use of tire chains is a good method of getting out of deep snow. Before putting them on, try spreading them out in front of the driving wheels as a temporary runway for traction. To avoid stopping to recover them until the car is clear, tie the ends to the bumper with a section of rope.

Temporary "rope" chains also can be tied around tires to provide needed traction. Remove wheel covers and pass sections of rope through the slots in disk wheels and between spokes of wire wheels. Tie the ropes tightly.

If the wheels have no slots, tying a length of rope around the entire wheel could provide enough traction before it slips off.

When stalled on ice, the dirt that accumulates under car fenders might provide enough traction to get the vehicle moving. Dislodge the dirt and spread it over the ice in front of the driving wheels.

Keep liquid tire chain, a special aerosol spray can available at most auto supply stores and service stations, in the glove compartment or trunk. Spraying it on tire treads should provide enough traction on ice for short runs before the resin wears off.

Society president names director

A Plymouth resident has been named to head the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., of Wayne County.

Michael J. Ryan succeeds Hugh Hodges as executive director of the Wayne County branch. Hodges has assumed the position of executive director for the society in Kansas.

Ryan will be responsible for the overall operation of the Easter Seal Society's activities in the area, including three drop-in centers in Detroit, Inkster and Wyandotte.

He also will direct the annual Easter Seal campaign this spring.

Prior to joining the Easter Seal Society, Ryan served as executive director of the southwest Ohio chapter of the American Heart Association for eight years.

Position deadline delayed

Van Buren Township officials have postponed the application deadline for the position of parks and recreation director until Feb. 15 because of a lack of applicants.

The township is seeking a full-time director to handle the duties of the department, following the resignation of William Loyd recently.

Applications for the position are available through the township clerk's office in the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The township has decided to expand the position to a full-time job, following the acquisition of Edison Pointe Park and Belleville Lake from the Detroit Edison Co.

Applicants must have a minimum of two years experience in parks and recreation. A degree is beneficial, but equivalent experience is sufficient.

For further information on the position contact the township clerk, Mrs. Patricia Cullen, at 699-2001.

Energy crisis causes slow license tag sales

The energy crisis has another victim — Michigan license plate tabs.

The energy crunch is the main reason Michigan's tag sales are sluggish, according to the manager of the Belleville branch of the Secretary of State office, John Barber. Secretary of State Richard H. Austin has predicted "the longest last-minute lines in the state's history."

Sales of 1974 passenger and commercial license tags at the Belleville branch are almost at a standstill, Barber said.

As of Jan. 25, the state showed a decline of 375,000 sales from last year on a comparable basis, Austin said.

"This is a disturbing situation because it means that we must make up for this loss based on average sales of between 25,000 and 30,000 daily," he added.

Most of the problems with the slow sales, according to Barber and Austin stemmed from the energy crisis.

Unsteady economy with many persons laid off, especially in the auto industry, is one of the reasons for slow sales, Austin said.

Other reasons include: —the possibility of gas rationing, which has many persons putting off obtaining tags, especially multi-car families;

—the trend toward purchase of lighter cars.

—the problems connected with the conversion to no-fault auto insurance, with many owners still not insured

Kindergarten exceeds the usual at Gordonier

For five-year-olds, school is a new and sometimes frightening experience.

However, for youngsters in Barbara Carlson's kindergarten class at Romulus Gordonier Elementary School, the learning experience has been expanded beyond the usual finger painting and "milk and cookies" time.

During the year, the youngsters' learning activities have centered around the recognition of colors and shapes, and the mastering of the alphabet.

MANY OF the children have learned to write their names and have advanced to cooking experiences.

Prior to the holiday season, the youngsters put their cooking lessons to work and created caramel apples and pumpkin bread and ice cream.

Miss Carlson also assists the children in the development of their artistic abilities. She lent a hand in the youngsters' re-creation of the Mayflower landing at Plymouth Rock, and the first Thanksgiving dinner.

The parents helped with the dinner, and the young pilgrims feasted on turkey and dressing, cranberries, corn and cornbread along with grape juice and gingerbread with whipped cream.

Family pulls surprise on mother's birthday

MRS. JEANETTE WARGO is still trying to recover from the fact her family pulled a complete surprise on her recent birthday. Playing it cool, her daughter, Jeanette Silvenis, made plans for lunch and an afternoon of shopping at Briarwood Saturday (the day of the birthday.) Since it'd been such a pleasant day, Mrs. W. didn't give another thought to any 'underhanded' plans that might be in the making.

So, Sunday when her granddaughter, Donna Silvenis, and fiancé, Chris Lochrie, came to visit and then talked her into "Coming over to Mom's for a visit", she very innocently went along to her son-in-law and daughter's, Stanley and Jeanette's, down the way on Bemis Road.

All she had to do was walk through the door to find it was more than just a casual visit cause there was her family, en masse, waiting to celebrate her 72nd natal date.

Sitting down to dinner with her were the afore-mentioned and also Leonard and Linda Silvenis and family of Ypsilanti; the Glenn Silvenis family from Wayne; and Don Silvenis and his fiancée, Socie Hall of Belleville. Unable to join the group were grandson Scott Silvenis, and his new bride, Joyce, who are attending classes at Michigan State.

Stockwells have a new granddaughter

MR. AND MRS. Chalmers Stockwell of Belleville (he, of course, is called 'Chum' by all who know him) added the 26th branch to their family tree recently. And the two are planning a trip to Virginia to see the new baby, Kerry Maureen, who was born November 30 at Georgetown University Hospital in the nation's capital.

The baby is the seventh child of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Leo J. Sheehan of Springfield, Virginia. Col. Sheehan is on the staff of the Deputy Chief of Staff of Air Force for Research and Development at the Pentagon. Mrs. Sheehan, the former Mary Louise Stockwell, is a graduate of St. Mary High School in Wayne and Mercy College in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sheehan of Littleton, Massachusetts are the infant's paternal grandparents.

Birthday celebrated in Oriental setting

WAITING AN extra eight days to celebrate her birthday wasn't too bad as Helen Miller found out when she arrived at Chung's in Detroit on the 25th. What she had expected to be a small dinner party turned out to be a total of 21 friends at three large tables rather than one.

With Don Blumh masterminding the evening, there were lots of gag gifts (and a few practical ones as well) after a big variety of Chinese dishes, unlimited pots of tea and, of course, fortune cookies which are always food for conversation.

Highlighting the party was the beautiful four-layered cake which Maxine Henderson had brought for the occasion and which 'the platter' had sabotaged with trick candles which simply refused to be blown out.

Meanwhile... back-a-the-stage

CHARLENE LOBB, we hear, is suddenly being photographed from every angle and in every mood by amateur shutter-bug Jon Hale. How come, you ask? Well, you see—she plays this here blind girl, Susy, in the Belleville Community Players new production, 'Wait Until Dark', and her husband, (Jim Lightfoot) is a photographer who uses Susy as a favorite subject. And since their apartment is supposed to be full of shots of Susy...

Then there's that crew usually lumped in the category 'behind-the-scenes' who have the challenging job of constructing not one but FIVE different staircases for the show. Jim Salisbury (who's wife, Mona, is producer) is responsible for set design and his stage and construction team include Larry Haase, Joe Lobb, Bill Matthews, Ken Miller, Jon Hale, Kenn Daniels and Chris Lochrie.

Got a look at the master plan for the stage set and, wow! What a heckuva job those fellas have ahead of them! Others delegated to back-stage tasks are Chris Lochrie, Trudy Heath and David Sam, lighting and sound; Glen Curtis, lighting consultant; Dorothy Florian, make-up; Trudy Heath, costumes; Jon Hale, Linda Heiser and Chris Lochrie, hand props; and all the people we've mentioned in earlier columns.

Then, too, there's Bill Matthews, who's handling tickets; Dave Medley, who's doing the program cover; and Dorothy Florian, who's seeing to its printing. One other person (who's played a number of parts in previous comedies) is Maxie Jo Haase who's assistant to the director.

Those dates, once again, for the mystery-drama are February 22 and 23 at the Belleville High Auditorium.

Teen driver training set at YWCA

The YWCA of Western Wayne County announced that a class in Teen Driver's Training will start Wednesday, February 13. The course will consist of 30 hours of classroom, plus six hours of on the road behind-the wheel experience.

The course is taught by state certified instructors, and upon successful completion, each student is awarded his certificate which is needed to obtain a license before the age of 18.

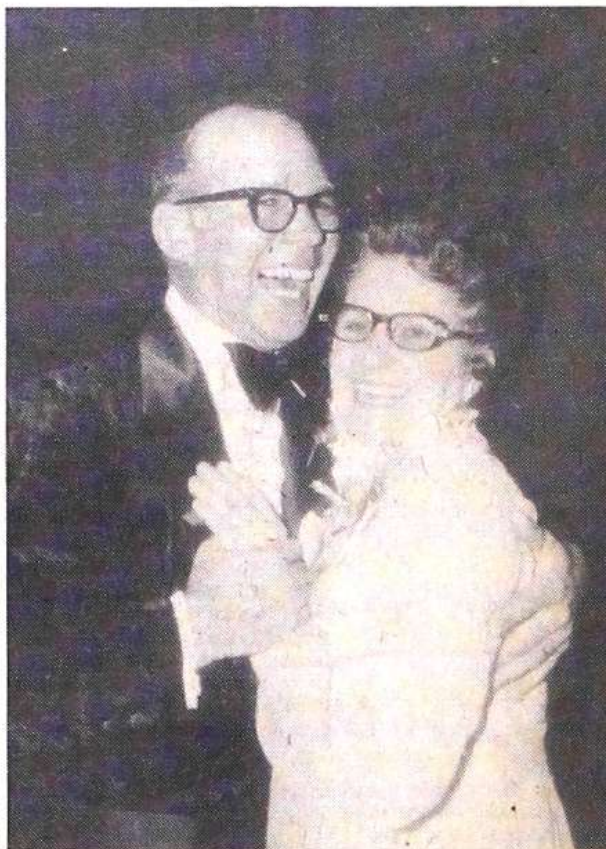

The class will meet every Monday and Wednesday from 5 to 7 p.m., plus Saturdays from 10-12 a.m. for five weeks.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND MEMERING

Memerings mark silver wedding

The Raymond Memerings of 31 Clarence Street, Belleville, marked their silver wedding anniversary January 29 but their 25 years of togetherness were celebrated three days earlier, Saturday, January 26. The observance began with a solemn high mass of thanksgiving at St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Mr. Mike Wasilewski delivering the homily.

The Memerings attended with members of their family and friends who later gathered at the Knights of Columbus Club Room in Wayne for a reception. Hosted by their five children, the dinner-dance was attended by

Ladies Aid hosts party for the aged

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston hosted its January birthday party for residents of the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Monroe Monday, January 29. Area patients, at the home, were presented with individual gifts and special birthday cakes. Those who were able also attended the party given for all the home's residents when cake, ice cream and coffee were served. Games and a song session were also part of the day.

Those attending from St. Paul's to help with the festivities were Evelyn Armstrong, Eileen Cichowski, Mildred Dubke, Margaret Knope, Dolly Morris, and Alice Ries.

Also Hulda Richert, Doris Rithaler, Emma Schultz, Lilly Schwartz, Shirley Shaffer, and Sandy Smith.

Toss Italian style Salad

Add slivered dry salame, provolone cheese and roasted slivered almonds to torn salad greens; toss with bottled Italian dressing.

65 guests from Bay City, Dearborn, Taylor, Wayne, Howell, Galesburg, and Belleville. Among those attending were seven of the eight members of the bridal party: Larry Reinhardt of Dearborn; John and Mary McCamey from Bay City; Yvonne (Memering) Deeds of Howell; Fred Crays and Herman Memering of Wayne; and Helen Hawkins from Galesburg.

The bride and groom ornament which had topped the Memering's wedding cake in 1949 was used on the special anniversary cake which was served during the evening.

Married at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne, Ray and Ginny moved to this area 21 years ago. Ray is employed by the Wayne County Road Commission and Ginny works as a secretary at North Junior High School. Their five children are Mrs. Richard (Alma) Johnson of Belleville; Mrs. Thomas (Margaret) Keon of Wayne; Paula, Gerard and Theresa.

Girl Scout cookie sales start; four area chairmen are named

Six thousand Girl Scouts here are out to burn a mortgage when they begin taking orders in the 1974 Girl Scout Cookie Sale, Friday, February 8. The goal for the drive is the highest in history, $260,000 in gross sales, and if successful, a part of the profits will make the last $10,000 payment and interest of a ten-year mortgage on Camp Linden, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's 400-acre residential and troop camp in Livingston County.

According to Sale Chairman, Mrs. Robert McNaughton of Ann Arbor, profits from the sale will also pay one-third of the costs of troop camping and one-half that of all resident camping. Cookie money also funds camp scholarships for over 100 girls each year.

This year a new flavor, Lemon Creme, has been added to the Girl Scout cookie selection, it was noted. Other flavors include the traditional favorites, Peanut Butter Savannah cookies, Thin Mints, Scot Teas and Chocolate and Vanilla Cremes. Dropped from last year's selection is Cocoa Fudge. Both Scot Teas and Thin Mints are Kosher, having received the circle-U designation from the Union of Orthodox Faith. Girl Scout cookies sold here are products of Burry Biscuit Company, a division of Quaker Oats Company of Chicago, Illinois. The larger boxes introduced last year will again be offered at the same 1973 price. Boxes containing 36 to 88 cookies sell for 96 cents plus 4 cents state sales tax, $1 in all. All are wrapped for freezing.

GIRL SCOUT troops and the Huron Valley Council share in the profits of the sale, with troop profit totaling 15 cents and the council profit 38 cents per box. Girl Scouts use this money to finance community service projects, camping and travelling trips.

Girl Scout cookie orders will be taken from February 8 to February 17 and deliveries of orders will be made soon after March 19.

The 1974 Girl Scout Cookie Sale will be led in New Boston and Huron Township by Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. Peter Hogberg; in Romulus by Mrs. Philip Renke; and in Belleville by Mrs. Ursula Lange. As area chairmen they will be in charge of training troop cookie chairmen, collecting troop orders and arranging for delivery of cookies.

In Romulus last year 225 Girl Scouts sold over 7,300 boxes and in Belleville 275 Scouts sold over 10,000.

The Foreign Language Club of Romulus Senior High School gave a "going away" dinner party Friday evening, February 1, for their teacher, Mrs. Cooper, who was leaving the system. The event was held at the home of Cindy and Susanna Maziariski on Wick Road. About 20 students were in attendance.

MR. AND MRS. Fred W. Hay of Huron River Drive South attended a talent show last Monday evening at Neidemeyer School in Newport, in which their grandson, five-year-old Geoff Herrmann, appeared. He and a friend, Amy Speers, sang "Rain Drops Keep Falling On My Head", accompanied on an electric guitar by Geoff's father, Donald G. Hermann of Newport.

MRS. LEWIS Thompson of Craig Street spent the past week as a house guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Santon Coman in Jackson.

MISS SHIRLEY Wilson of Wayne Road was among 15 members of the government class of Romulus' Continuing Education program who wound up the semester by making a trip to the State Capital at Lansing. Guests of State Representative Edward Mahalak of Romulus the group, toured the capitol buildings and had a glimpse of the lawmakers in session. The class also had lunch in Lansing and had an opportunity meet former Detroit Mayor Gribbs. A car pool was formed to make the trip.

THE ROMULUS Elementary Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 704 is presently holding a newspaper drive as part of their ecology project in recycling and also to raise funds for their troop activities. For newspaper pick-up, phone Mrs. Harley Savage, leader, 941-4077. Your cooperation would be much appreciated.

MRS. MANTOUR, Uht, 84, of Wayne is now a patient at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne. Her many friends in this area can remember her by mailing cards which she much appreciates.

The boys and girls were pretty well divided this past week but with five arrivals to announce, the females had it over males by three to two.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jackson of 44575 Beverly, Belleville, added a 6 lb., 8 oz. daughter to their family January 23. Birth was at Beyer Hospital.

Also welcoming a little girl were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garascia of 2535 Sherwood Road, Belleville. The 3 lb., 14 oz. infant arrived January 26 at Beyer Hospital.

It was a boy, weighing 8 lbs., 5 oz., January 26 for Mr. and Mrs. George Barr of 13660 Fairview, Belleville. He, too, was born at Beyer Hospital.

Born January 29 at Beyer Hospital was a 6 lb., 14 oz. son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Young of 18 Carmell, Belleville.

Krista Lynn was the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Nieman of 524 Rustic Lane, Belleville, for their new daughter. Making her January 22 debut at Beyer Hospital, the baby weighed an even eight pounds.

FUTURE BALLERINAS? — Learning to do a simple arabesque isn't always that simple, especially if you're a wee tot in the beginner's group. Maxie Jo Haase (back, left) is the instructor for the Tuesday and Thursday classes being held from 5 to 8 p.m. at North Junior High School. Schooled in modern dance and ballet, Mrs. Haase recently attended a two-day work shop at Marygrove College in Detroit given by Martha Graham and David Walker. Mrs. Haase and her assistant, Polly Opyr, teach ballet to those nine years or older, tap to both boys and girls, beginning ballet to 7 and eight year olds, and modern dance exercises to adults. Pupils include (from left) Michelle Middlebrook, Pam LaPorte, Jackie Burke, Kristen Jorgensen and Michelle Opyr.

California trip is nice mid-winter 'break'

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. Burl Akans of Potter Dr. recently returned from Burbank, California where she had visited her sister, Mrs. Sharon Paulin, who is employed at Warner Brothers studio. Mrs. Akans was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Alice Hightower, who remained in the West to visit other relatives in Washington.

Among the many places of interest visited were behind the scenes at Warner Brothers, and Disneyland. In San Diego, Mrs. Akans visited a nephew and wife Mr. and Mrs. Robert Akans, and Sea World, and drove to Tijuana in Old Mexico.

In Anaheim she visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kaniski, the former being the son of the Steve Kaniskis of Potter Dr.

MRS. CHESTER Shoup of Morenci was a visitor at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens of E. Huron River Dr. from Sunday until Wednesday of last week.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Amerman of Palson, Montana, who are spending the winter at Jonesville, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of W. Columbia Ave. On Sunday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Gillman Mulford of Madelon St. for dinner and an afternoon of reminiscing.

AFTER HAVING spent the past six weeks visiting in Korea, Marvin Meerse returned to his home on W. Columbia Ave. on Sunday, January 27.

MRS. CHARLES Dibley of Bay City, wife of the former Minister of the United Methodist Church of this city, Rev. Charles Dibley, has been a patient this past week at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor.

DINNER GUESTS on Saturday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Rd. were friends from Inkster, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Sabin.

ON SATURDAY, January 26, Mrs. Mae Fielder of South St. and Mrs. Cora Bradshaw of Bedell St. attended a luncheon and meeting of the Michigan Club held at Holiday Inn of Detroit at Northland. In the evening they attended a dinner and reception for Ruth Mason, Grand Chaplain of the O.E.S. held at Redford Masonic Temple.

MRS. CLAYTON Saunders of Liberty St. was a guest on Saturday of last week of a friend, Miss Dorothy Merritt, of Eaton Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maciejewski of 14650 Huron River Drive, Romulus, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pat, to Rick Hadyniak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hadyniak of 11700 Ewing, Romulus.

The bride-elect is in her senior year at Romulus High from which her fiancé graduated in 1972. He is currently employed at Vesco's in Romulus.

As yet no date has been set for the wedding.

Dreamy Valentine pie deserves best pastry

You'll be a true sweetheart any day you serve a luscious pie. But especially for Valentine's Day, remember yours, young or old, with a special treat — a Coconut Macaroon Pie. They'll appreciate its delectable goodness; you'll enjoy the easy preparation, unusual for such a lovely dessert.

Of course any pie maker knows a light tender and flaky crust is just as crucial to a superb pie as the filling. That's why particular pastry chefs choose lard, says Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Coconut Macaroon Pie for pastry:

1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water
Mix flour and salt. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll to about ¼ inch thickness and line pie pan, allowing ½ inch crust to extend over edge. Fold overhang over or under and crimp edge of pastry.

For Filling:
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flaked coconut
Beat eggs well. Beat in sugar gradually. Stir in corn syrup, vanilla and coconut. Pour filling into pastry-lined pie pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.). 40 to 45 minutes or until done.

Rainbow Girls install Deana Halcomb as W.A.

At a public installation Saturday, January 19, Deana M. Halcomb was installed as Worthy Advisor for Belleville Assembly No. 49 of the Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Following opening ceremonies at the Masonic Temple, the welcoming address was given by Mrs. Edna Florian and the invocation by Vincent Goodnuff.

During installation Ruth O'Brien sang 'Give of Yourself to Your Neighbor' accompanied on the piano by Mark Honeycutt. The twosome later sang a duet 'I Know Who Holds My Hand.'

OFFICERS INSTALLED were Deana Halcomb, W.A.; Pam Bankert, W.A.A.; Lyla Blade, Cheryl McKelvey, Debbie Flanagan, Carolyn Nicholson, Denise Welt, Susan Corey, Patty Powell, Robert Welt, and Kathy Greiss.

Still others were Pat Fleming, Cindy Allmon, Lori Allmon, Vicky Williams, Betty Jo Powell, Patricia Flanagan, Debby Nicholson, LaVerna Arnett, Sylvia Corey, and Rosa Martin.

Lisa McGlashen was retiring Worthy Advisor and Mrs. Rose Welt was installed as Mother Advisor.

Installing officers for the ceremony were Lisa McGlashen, Denise Welt, Debby Green, Reia Clark, Linda Clayton, Patricia Flanagan, Carolyn Nicholson, Debby Nicholson, Ruth McAtee and Mrs. Ruby Clayton.

The new advisory board was then introduced.

THE THEME for Deana's installation was the open Bible which was carried out in her cake, table decorations and individual favors of miniature Bibles in her colors of lavender and white. She was later presented with her gavel from her line officers and a bouquet of red roses from her chapter.

The new Worthy Advisor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Halcomb of 13045 Ormond Drive, Belleville. Special guests attending were Deana's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Halcomb Jr. of Willis; her grandfather J. B. Halcomb of Ypsilanti; and Mr. and Mrs. T. Blade of Romulus.

Deana, a junior at Belleville High School, is a member of the marching band, symphony band and clarinet choir. She has also been selected to participate in the Michigan Youth Honor Band which will be traveling to Mexico City for concerts in July.

Christine Knysz is Junior Girls' new president

Christina Ann Knysz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Peter Knysz of Huron River Drive, Romulus, was installed as president of the Orlando Le Valley Junior Girls No. 9 at the Women's Relief Corps Hall in Taylor recently. Mrs. Dorothy Gronewald of Freeport, Department President of W.R.C., acted as installing officer.

Among those present were Chris' grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Katz, a past department president, past national officer and past Junior Girl director. Her mother, Mrs. Ruthann Knysz, department senior vice-president, also attended. Other Junior Girl directors, aides, corps members and families were also in attendance.

After the obligations were taken, a reception was held in Chris' honor with Mrs. Charlotte Smith and her assistants taking the obligation to help and love the girls.

Chris, a sophomore at Belleville High School, can remain a Junior Girl until her 18th birthday. A Junior Girl for the past seven years, she will be initiated into the John M. Wahl Corps in June. A department officer in Junior Girls, she has attended three national conventions of the W.R.C. with her mother and grandmother.

Ford Cookbook, sixth edition, is now on sale

People limiting pleasure travel to save gasoline can stay home but still enjoy the kinds of meals served in the finest restaurants of America and Canada. Recipes for these gourmet dishes appear in the sixth edition of Ford Times Cookbook just published by Ford Motor Company. The 144-page hardcover book highlights one or more recipes from more than 200 U.S. and Canadian restaurants featured in Ford Times during the last five years. Ford Times is a monthly, 2,000,000-circulation-travel and dining magazine distributed through Ford dealers. Recipes were compiled and kitchen-tested by Nancy Kennedy, Ford Times women's editor.

The cookbook is as attractive as it is informative.

Each restaurant is illustrated, most by full-color painting or photograph.

Detroit restaurants featured are Al Green's Celebrity Room, Eastman's Gaslight Room, Jim's Garage, Top of the Flame and Yamato. Suburban restaurants include Shalea Inn in Auburn Heights, and The Vineyards in Southfield.

All restaurants are listed by region, state and city. Also noted are house specialties, business hours and locations.

The first Ford Times Cookbook was published in 1950. It and its successors, totaling nearly one million copies, were sold out. The new volume is available (for $4.95 post-paid) from Ford Books, Box 4359, Dearborn, Mich. 48121.

Romulus women to receive pins at YWCA dinner

Planners approve rezoning

The Huron Township Planning Commission recently voted to recommend to the township board of trustees that a 500-plus acre land package bounded by Romine and Will Carlton roads be rezoned from industrial to a multiple-family dwelling status.

James A. Tillotson, planning commission chairman, said the rezoning recommendation is being made to the board of trustees because the land is "ideal" for residential use.

"The area is between the Metro park Carlton Road and I-275," he said. "And the park separates the township. The fact that the park is there makes the land ideal as a higher density residential area."

"People today are looking for space to move to and there is a lot of open space there."

The commission's decision, which came after a public hearing on the matter, concerned two parcels of land of 73 and 17 acres. The balance of the 500-plus acres already has been rezoned to multiple-family dwellings.

The commission also held a preliminary discussion on the first phase of construction of a condominium complex and shopping center on Huron River Drive. The discussion dealt with the initial site plan since the land already has been zoned accordingly, Tillotson added.

5 women graduate in Ypsi

Five area women are among the 57 who were graduated from the Ann Arbor Schools Practical Nurse Education Center in Ypsilanti.

They include: Mrs. Rita Carey of 32624 King Rd., New Boston; Linda Ferguson of 44111 Harmony La., Belleville; Julie Jurinio of 70 Henry St., Belleville; Jeanette Nowak of 45257 Willis Rd., Belleville; and Gail Ostrowski of 44262 Lake Crest Dr., Belleville.

The education center works in cooperation with Ann Arbor Hospital in Wayne and Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti along with several other health care institutions in Western Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

Scouts present awards

The January meeting of Cub Scout Pack 793, sponsored by St. Anthony's Catholic School in Belleville, was highlighted by the presentation of awards and advancements.

The following awards were presented:

Eric Larcinese, wolf badge and one gold arrow; Joe Roulo, wolf badge; and Mike McNally, bear badge and one silver arrow. Frank Lemanski was advanced to the Webelos division of the pack.

Eddie Nowak got a recruiter badge and denner card; Grant Memering, was awarded a bobcat badge; Arvil Smith received a bobcat badge; Chris Swinson got a naturalist badge, and Chris Larcinese received a citizen badge.

Kiwanis welcomes members

The Romulus' Kiwanis Club has some new faces in its ranks.

Joining the club recently were Jack Trumble, a city councilman in Romulus, Richard Butz, a sheetmetal worker and Robert Martin, a businessman.

Each of the new members, who were welcomed to the club since the beginning of the year, represents an occupation which the club is designed to represent.

The Kiwanis are set up to include members from all the occupations found in a community.

Woman gains prize

A Romulus woman is $6,000 richer today after winning one of 44 prizes awarded in a special bonus lottery drawing last week.

Mrs. Helen Dobbins was among 20 of the drawing's participants who won the $6,000 prize in the New Year's bonus drawing.

Twelve winners were selected to receive $24,000 or $2,000 for the next 12 months. A matching number of contestants also were chosen to receive the $12,000 prize package with the remainder receiving the $6,000 allotment. State lottery officials said that four of the qualifying tickets for the drawing have not been returned. However, ticket bearers of the missing quartet still can receive $6,000, if their tickets are redeemed during the year.

Elwell student wins bee

Elwell Elementary School in Belleville recently held a spelling bee.

The top speller in the fifth grade was Christopher Lockwood. The sixth grade top speller was Carla Dryer.

The other nine top fifth grade spellers are:

Anita Hoffman, second; Melinda Thacker, third; Marla Bruin, fourth; Shari McArthur, fifth; Ron Stettler, sixth; Lori Robinson, seventh; Terry Triplett, eighth; Bruce Sullens, ninth; and Phillip Smelt, tenth. Students Georgia Sanders and David Polarski are alternates.

The winning word that brought class victory to Lockwood was "sport." The spelling bee pronouncer was a fifth grade teacher, Christine Lamberts.

Judges for the fifth grade bee were Mrs. Marvin Mathena, Mrs. Joel Johnson and Mrs. Charles Jeffery.

The other top sixth grade spellers are: Bridget Johnson, second; Karen Burelle, third; Diane Pavelka, fourth; Pamela Maier, fifth; Brad Sanders, sixth; Marhorie Bruin, seventh; Donald Brown, eighth; Mike Vance, ninth; and Gail Conley, tenth. Ella Chamberlain and Mike Little were selected as alternates.

The word which won first place for Carla was "practice." The pronouncer was a sixth grade teacher, Ray Gross. The judges were Mrs. Preston Thacker and Mrs. Ruth Clift, the school secretary.

The students of both the fifth and sixth grades soon will participate in the school spelling bee championship.

She earns scholastic excellence

Romulus resident, Mary McGahey, has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Saginaw Valley College.

Miss McGahey, who lives at 7183 Farnum Rd., attained a 3.0 average and carried a full schedule of classes to receive the academic honor.

Farmers receive allotment

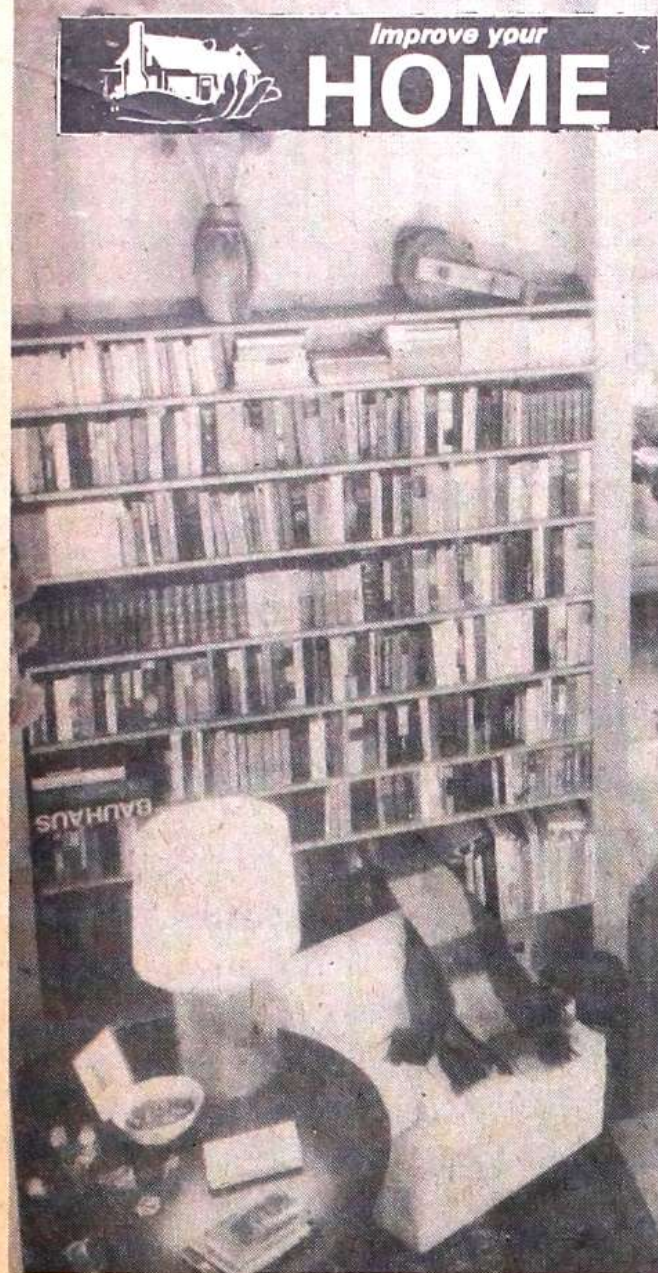

A feed grain allotment may be established under the 1974 Feed Grain Program for farms, which did not have a base in prior years and meets eligibility requirements, according to the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Under the allotment, an operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production of agricultural commodities.

He also must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grain, and the land must be suitable for the production of such grains.

Under the guidelines, neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain allotment has been established.

Interested feed grain producers should contact the county's stabilization and conservation committee at 3716 Newberry St., Wayne, by Feb. 15 to file an application for the program.

HEMLOCK ADDS DRAMA TO ROOM—Warm, muted tones of western hemlock board paneling on walls, ceiling of open living room offer background for furnishings, accented by tall set of bookshelves built with western pine boards, fireplace enclosure of 1x8-inch hemlock. Door leads to home office-study.

Wooden wall can give texture to living room

An open living room gains color, texture, strength and warmth from walls or accents of wood, offering a dramatic environment for family living or entertaining when combined with well-chosen furnishings.

Accents can be big and bold or subtle, and impressive applications used in large open-plan homes can be scaled down to work just as well in smaller situations.

One family used western hemlock lumber in a number of ways when creating a comfortable, contemporary country home to replace the quaint but convenient vintage house they had lived in for years.

ONE OF THE problems facing this couple and their architect was a large collection of furnishings, both family inheritances and more recent purchases.

They had more than they knew what to do with, and found it as difficult as a young couple trying to stretch to fit their space.

Added to this, both husband and wife enjoy weaving and the wife is an artist who paints medium to large wax encaustic paintings.

There also were children coming home from college, grandchildren and lots of friends.

FOR SUCH A busy house, they chose to leave the one-by-four-inch hemlock paneling unfinished, and have found it easier to just sand off any marks or scratches rather than full sanding and refinishing.

The large living room, with rich hardwood floors, comfortably holds several furniture groupings. Matching the scale, a 10-foot high and almost as wide set of eight bookshelves sets off one corner of the room.

The shelves are of one-by-eight-inch boards with three wall-hung sets of brackets. Stronger lines could be gained using two-by-eight-inch planks.

Here's the Answer

Q.—Some liquid was spilled on our marble table top some time ago. It appears that it might have etched itself into the surface, since no amount of rubbing takes it off. Can anything be done about this?

A.—Your only chance of correcting the condition is with marble polishing powder, which is sold in some hardware stores and by most marble dealers. If the etching is too deep, you may be out of luck.

Q.—I put lacquer on the front door of our house a couple of years ago. Some of it is wearing off and the knob has a messy appearance. How can I get the lacquer off and must I put on a new coat?

A.—The remaining lacquer can be removed by rubbing vigorously with lacquer thinner. Be careful. It's volatile and flammable. You can get by with brass polish, but after a while, the brass will begin to tarnish. Lacquer is fine if you renew it every year or two before it begins to wear off.

Thirty-five home repair problems are discussed in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to The Daily Eagle, Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.

Removal of finish can be messy job

Don't start removing the finish from an old piece of furniture unless you have made up your mind that it's likely to be a messy chore.

Once in a great while, when a wooden object has a single coat of varnish or paint on it, the finish can be taken off quickly and easily with one of the wipe-on-wipe-off types of removers.

Most of the time, however, the old finish is made up of many coats, applied at different times over the years, or a series of three coats applied on a single occasion.

EITHER WAY, the removal job is almost certain to be arduous, involving applying the remover, scraping it off and, in some cases, using a bleach to restore the wood to its natural color.

Troublesome as it is, the removal of an old finish can be very satisfying, revealing the beauty of the wood and the chance to refinish it as you wish.

When the new, usually clear finish is put on, the result more often than not is good enough to inspire you to tackle a similar job on another piece of furniture. But when you are in the middle of the project, you're likely to have some qualms about having started it in the first place.

Varnish remover or paint remover; it's the same thing is put on with a brush, applied generously with full-flowing strokes. Use more of the flat of the brush than the tips of the bristles. The container will tell you how long to wait for the particular brand you are using. It's usually between 15 minutes and half an hour.

AFTER THE waiting period, take a putty knife and scrape a small portion of the surface. If the old finish, which will have become bubbly and wrinkled, can be scraped off fairly easily, go ahead with the rest of the surface.

If there is too much resistance and you are able to remove only a little of the finish, it means that the remover has not penetrated deeply enough or that more remover is required.

Wait another 10 minutes, then test again. If it is still evident that the finish is not coming off, apply another coat of the remover right over the first one.

Wait the required time period, then begin scraping again. Always hold the putty knife so that the blade is almost horizontal. If held vertically, there is a chance that the blade will take off part of the wood as well as the finish.

DESPITE YOUR work and your patience, you may find at the conclusion of the scraping that some color still remains in the wood.

Steel wool or sand the surface and see if that does any good. If not, it is necessary to use a commercial bleach unless you plan to finish the surface with paint rather than a clear finish.

If the wood is to be painted, the traces of remaining color will not affect the result.

Since both the remover and the bleach are chemicals, wear gloves when using them.

Faust proposes election petitioning fees ban

Legislation designed to shorten election ballots by toughening the filing requirements for public office was introduced by State Sen. William Faust.

The Westland Democrat wants to eliminate a provision of the law, which enables candidates for most public offices to pay a $100 fee in lieu of nominating petitions, signed by registered voters.

"As the law now stands, a candidate for county, municipal and some state offices including senator and representative, needs no public support at all, just cold cash to get his name on the ballot," Faust said. "By eliminating that provision, I hope we in Michigan can achieve at least two major objectives: shorten the ballot and discourage the influence of money in political campaigns."

FAUST ADDED that if a candidate really is serious about political office, he or she should be willing to obtain signatures of supporters on nominating petitions.

"If we are to encourage the election of conscientious, dedicated legislators, we must encourage a person, who files for office, to put at least a minimum effort into his campaign," the senator added.

"As long as a person can enter a race merely by plunking down $100, we will continue to encourage bed-sheet ballots and continue to encourage people to run for the office even though they are not serious about it."

Faust said Detroit voters recently approved a new charter, also aimed at reducing the size of the ballot.

UNDER THE new charter, candidates for council will be required to collect at least 900 petition signatures before they can file and would be prohibited from filing a $100 fee in lieu of petitions to enter the race.

"If a candidate is serious about seeking political office, it really shouldn't be that difficult to obtain the required number of signatures," Faust said. "How, after all, can a candidate expect 50 per cent of the voters to support him in an election, if he can't convince less than one per cent of them to sign nominating petitions?"

Realtor takes part in meeting

A recent symposium on the economic outlook of real estate attracted Belleville realtor Dorothy Schroeder and her son, Michael.

The meeting, held last month in Detroit, covered such problems as the availability of mortgages, interest rates on mortgages and the effects of the energy crisis on the real estate business.

The symposium also placed the economic outlook of real estate in its proper perspective.

Mrs. Schroeder is owner of D.R. Schroeder Real Estate in Belleville.

Funeral services are held

Funeral services for Frank J. Sobekki, 61, of 45065 Bemis Rd., Belleville, who was found dead in his pickup truck last Wednesday, were held at 10:30 a.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Belleville.

Burial services were held in Michigan Memorial Park Cemetery near Flat Rock. Funeral arrangements were supervised by Roberts Bros. Inc., of Belleville.

Mr. Sobekki is survived by his wife, six children, seven grandchildren, seven brothers and one sister.

Ypsilanti police said he was found stretched out on the floor of his pickup truck shortly after the vehicle ran off the road and crashed into a tree at the foot of an embankment alongside Grove Road near Ford Lake.

According to an autopsy report Mr. Sobekki was the apparent victim of a heart attack.

EMU Players present Shakespearean comedy

"Twelfth Night," Shakespeare's romantic comedy of mistaken identity and confusion, will be presented by the Eastern Michigan University Players at 8 p.m. Feb. 15-17 and Feb. 20-23 in Quirk Auditorium on the EMU campus in Ypsilanti. The cast of 25 is directed by P. George Bird, professor of speech and dramatic arts, and includes three English exchange students. "Twelfth Night" concerns the problems of love between royal households. The trouble begins when Viola, disguised as her twin brother Sebastian, is asked by Count Orsino to carry his pledge of love to Countess Olivia.

The countess rejects the offer but falls in love with the disguised Viola, who in turn, loves the count. The issue becomes more confused when members of Countess Olivia's household become involved and other suitors turn up.

Mary Jo Tanguay, a junior from Livonia, plays Countess Olivia. Dale Van Dorp, a senior from Dearborn, plays Count Orsino. Viola is played by Wayne sophomore Marty Helppie.

The English exchange students are Michael Burns as Sir Toby, Alistair Conquer as Malvolio and Judy Rhoden as Maria. Coupon exchange begins Feb. 4 and open sale of tickets, at $2 each, will begin Feb. 11. The Quirk box office is open from 11:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and noon to 8:30 p.m. performance days.

Awards Committee of the American Association for State and Local History and a member of the board of Governors of the Northeast Conference of Museums. Curator to speak at Ford museum

The director of the New Jersey Historical Society, Robert Lunny, is the next speaker in the 22nd annual Henry Ford Museum antiques lecture series.

Lunny's illustrated lecture will be presented in the museum theater 8:30 p.m. Friday. Contributing to this year's theme, "Americana Collections in the Major State Historical Societies," he will examine the New Jersey Historical Society collections.

This is the fourth in the current series of seven talks on collections developed by the country's earliest state historical societies. Formed along the eastern seaboard between 1791 and 1844, these societies have built major specialized collections of the American decorative arts. Lunny has been director of the New Jersey Historical Society since 1956, and a member of the state's historic trust and historic sites council since 1968. He also is chairman of the New Jersey

In BCP production

She finds role a challenge

All the ingredients for a difficult part can be found in the role of Susy Hendrix in the Belleville Community Players' (BCP) latest dramatic endeavor, "Wait Until Dark."

Take one young woman, who though blind, has no room in her life for self pity and, a busy husband who combines firmness with underlying tenderness in trying to help her.

Mix them with a plot, which involves a heroin stuffed doll, and a few ruthless gangsters who feel the young woman will be an "easy mark."

THE RESULT is a role that resembles an exercise in emotions including fear, anger, tenderness, love and frustration.

The recipient of this demanding part is Charlene Lobb, a young wife and mother of two children who has been with the BCP for the year. This is her second stage part with this group, the first being a small role in "Pillow Talk."

The hardest part of being Susy Hendrix, according to Charlene, is "remembering that I'm blind."

"There are so many things I've never even considered,"

she said. "For instance, I have to shake hands at meeting one of the men. I had to be reminded that I couldn't see it and to wait until he took mine."

ALSO, because Susy has not been blind long, she is clumsy.

"I fall a dozen times,"

Charlene said. "Up the stairs, down the stairs, over chairs, tables, stools. I'm completely

Other unusual difficulties with the part of Susy Hendrix include the number of lines in the role. Once Susy enters, she remains on stage until the final curtain.

In addition to the large speaking part, there are often pages and pages of stage direction which are just as important in terms of establishing plot as the lines themselves.

BUT ACCORDING TO Charlene, the hardest part is yet to come. As of Feb. 1 there were no scripts allowed on stage by dictum of the director and that's when the work really began.

The finished product, "Wait Until Dark," will be performed at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 22 and 23 at Belleville High School Auditorium. Ticket cost $2 for adults and $1 for students and will be available at the door.

Music adorns supper

As part of its continuing dinner-concert series, the Schoolcraft College Student Activities Board is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner Friday with after dinner music by Ron Coden.

The program combines a fine cuisine, prepared by the campus food services department, and music of Coden, who has performed in a number of lounges throughout the area.

The dinner, which includes wine for a nominal charge, will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Coden is scheduled to perform beginning at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available at the door or in advance by contacting the Students Activities office up until 3 p.m. Friday. They cost $2.50 per person.

The dinner-concert is being held in the Waterman Campus Center on the Livonia campus, 18600 Haggerty Rd. For further information, call 591-6400, ext. 320.

In contract dispute

Belleville teachers meet to discuss issues

Negotiating teams, representing the Van Buren Board of Education and the Van Buren Education Association (VBEA), will meet with State Labor Mediator Gordon Lee this week in an effort to settle the four-month long teacher employment contract dispute that has plagued the district.

The meeting with the labor mediator was prompted by the school district's teachers, who have been working without a contract since the opening of the 1973-74 school year. Previous sessions with Lee have been unsuccessful in settling the contract dispute. The meeting was to be held last night at the district's administration building. THE MAJOR areas of dispute involve salary schedules, fringe benefits and class size. VBEA President William Houston said that the association has asked for the meeting to study various proposed contract items before an upcoming session with factfinder Maurice Kelman of Wayne State University's Law School. "We wanted to discuss new proposals in the areas of dispute, except class size, and to put them in writing," Houston said. "We also intend to take up the matter of the calendar relative to making up the 12 days lost during the teacher strike." Fact finding was ordered by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James N. Canham, who assumed jurisdiction in the dispute after ordering the teachers back to work, putting an end to the 12-day walkout on Sept. 26. KELMAN WILL meet with the board of education and association negotiating teams at 10 a.m. next Wednesday at the district's administration building. Although any decision made by Kelman will not be binding, the fact finding could start a new course for bargaining between the teachers and the school board a spokesman said.

demanding enforceable class-size limits. School officials said class-size limits would force the school district to employ more teachers and construct more classrooms.

TO KEEP IN SHAPE — Keeping physically fit is a must these days according to leading medics. Sitting up exercises is one way of helping to do this. The Van Buren Township Recreation Department is offering a physical fitness program on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Belleville High School gymnasium. Above are members of the present physical fitness program class trying to get into shape - Enterprise-Roman photo.

Kelman will review and study both the economic demands of the association and the district's finances to determine if the demands are reasonable and can be met by the school board. During preceding contract talks, the VBEA decreased its across-the-board salary hike demand from seven to 6.7 per cent. The school board has increased its salary proposal from three to four per cent. The association also is

Romulus' Reid, Smith win titles

Adrian upsets top-ranked Wayne

Wayne Memorial's final wrestling invitational tournament of the year — the inaugural Romulus meet — cost it its No. 1 ranking in the state.

Wayne was dethroned by Adrian, the defending Class A state champs, Saturday at the invitational.

Wayne trailed Adrian in the final standings by 8½ points as the defending state champs garnered 82 points compared to Wayne's 73½. It was Wayne's first tournament loss of the season, snapping an eight tourney streak.

Scoring system puts pressure on swim coaches

By TOM MOORADIAN

Larry Teahan has never had a losing season as head swim coach at Livonia Franklin.

In fact, in his six years as coach his teams have finished in third place five times in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

This year he and his Patriots are shooting for the title. And, that's sort of a miracle when you consider Teahan is working alone, without an assistant coach.

When the Michigan High School Athletic Association inaugurated its new point system at the beginning of the season, it was done to force swimming coaches to open the doors "to the masses."

This has put the pressure on most coaches.

THE NEW SCORING system accentuates "depth" which is good for the kids — because more will compete — but "bad" for the coach, especially those without an assistant — for, obviously, he had to put more swimmers into the pool.

"What has happened is that the marginal swimmer who used to swim exhibition is now an important point-scoring member of the team," explained Teahan. "I really think it was an excellent idea to get more kids involved in the swimming program."

"However, there is definitely more pressure on the coach," continued the 27-year-old former Western Michigan University swim star. "The coach's job has become much harder because he has two more places in each individual event to worry about which totals out to 18 places per meet plus two relays."

"Before, a coach had to worry about 29 places in a swimming meet, now with the new scoring system he has 49 places, obviously, there's more homework to be done."

TEAHAN POINTED out that scouting is an important facet of coaching but, unlike basketball or football, swim coaches don't have to see a swim meet to know what the opposition has.

"Most coaches," related Teahan, "will exchange times. Those times tell us just about what to expect. However, in order to figure out a meet with the increased number of places, you have to get several different sets of times and compiling the list is tedious and time consuming."

"For me personally, then, that means I have to spend a lot more hours on a telephone and most coaches will exchange times during practice hours, keeping one eye on the swimmers and an ear glued to the phone."

Why not make the telephone calls after practice or at home?

"Sure, when you know a coach that's O.K. But some of the coaches who are not in the area don't want you to take up their time, after all, they have families and want to lead normal lives. So what happens is that now, because I need the information, I have to spend a lot more time on the telephone. This, of course, cuts down on the amount of time that I can be with my kids."

"And that means I can miss a mistake, or a stroke which should have been corrected and if corrected could have won a meet for us."

Teahan's assistant, Dale Rothenberg, was one of three assistant coaches wiped out in an economic squeeze play by the Livonia Board of Education three years ago. None of the three has been reinstated.

"If I had an assistant coach, it's obvious that we could share some of the responsibilities," added Teahan. "I feel that the only people who are really being cheated are our swimmers."

"These kids are doing a fantastic job and deserve better than they are getting," Teahan said.

wrestlers who remains undefeated on the season, is a junior world and national champ and also two-time state champ.

IN THE tough 115-pound class, Rick Rodriguez of Adrian, defending Class A state champ at 115-pounds, won a close 5-3 decision over Fenton's Mike Pickover. Pickover placed fourth in the state last year. Romulus' Phil Ford, who won the consolation finals in that weight by beating Clawson's Bob Slade, 14-1, is a state AAU champ while Sade finished second in the 98-pound class in the state last year. Steve Chesher of Adrian, winner of the 129-pound class gold medal by pinning Bob Colaianni of Wayne Memorial (3:29) was runnerup in the state last year at 119.

Wayne Memorial's Larry Silvestri one of two Wayne wrestlers to emerge with a first place at Romulus, knocked off Flint Northern's Ronnie Childress 8-0. Larry was third in the state last year and also third at the National AAU Freestyle Invitational. Silvestri's teammate, John Bullard, turned back Romulus' Rudy Williams, 11-3, to claim the 148-pound title. Bullard is also a highly-regarded candidate for state honors. He finished second last year in the state and sixth at the National AAU Tournament.

Williams was runner-up at the National Greco-Roman Invitational.

ROMULUS' Henry Reid streaked to his 39 consecutive victory of the season against no losses as he pinned Fenton's Paul Roe in 3:18. Reid was declared the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler while Schneider was awarded the Most Pin Trophy for his three victories. He pinned his opponents in 28 seconds, 2:39 and 0:41.

One of the exciting matchups of the tournament pitted Romulus' Brad Smith, who won the state title at 135 last year, and Wayne Memorial's Steve Fedulchak, in 141-pound finals. Smith won a 5-0 decision and the gold medal.

Freestyle relay keys Tiger win

Breaking up his first string freestyle relay team to spread the talent into two equal squads, Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy maneuvered the Tigers to a narrow 86½ to 85½ victory over Plymouth Salem last week.

Plymouth, leading 80½ to 77½ going into the final relay, picked up the first place but handed over second and third to the visitors. The six points the two Belleville relay teams collected pulled it to their initial Suburban 8 Conference victory of the season.

Belleville now is 1-2 in the league and 6-2 on the season. "IT WAS an exciting meet," said Vicchy, commenting on the encounter with Salem, "we had some real good times but I feel equally important the victory had a psychological effect on our swimmers."

"It made some of our sophomores believers in themselves," Vicchy said. Plymouth, which had hauled in eight of the 11 firsts, lacked the depth. Belleville averted the shutout from first places thanks to diver Ray Liebler (229.55), Dana Bell, who won the 200-yard individual medley and Dennis Harkness, who took the 100-yard backstroke.

Belleville returns to the home pool tomorrow night to host Livonia Bentley at 7 p.m. "It should be a good meet," said Vicchy of the pending conference confrontation. "We could have just a little bit

Think Tank

We're sure that by now you've had it up to there with talk about the energy crisis. We have, too. So what do you say we both do something about it?

Let's go on a gas diet. The American Automobile Association (AAA) has asked its sixteen-million members across the country to voluntarily cut gas usage by twenty-five percent to avoid gas rationing. As part of this national effort, we're asking you and all Michigan drivers to join in.

We're not suggesting that we starve ourselves to the point of stalling. On the contrary. Let's keep traveling by trimming away excess gasoline usage. (Cut down, so to speak, on galories.)

Think Tank. That's what Think Tank is all about: Sharing ideas so that together we can save enough gas to avoid rationing. We'd like you to think more about your gas tank and come up with as many gas saving ideas as you can. Send them to us and we'll share them with everyone else.

Six tips you might be tankful for.

To get us started here are some gas saving ideas:

1. Use a light touch. Drive your car like you had an egg between your foot and the gas pedal. Try not to break the egg.

2. Look ahead for ways to gently slow your car without using the brake pedal. 3. Drive 55 mph or less.

4. Plan ahead to make shopping trips in a straight line without doubling back or crossing your own path.

5. Make sure your car is tuned-up and tires are properly inflated.

6. Join a car pool.

Now send us your ideas. Most of our ideas you've already heard. Send us yours. (Don't be shy, now. The idea that just popped into your head has probably never been thought of before.) We'll send you a Think Tank bumper sticker and membership card to prove you're doing your part to avoid gas rationing.

Where to send them. Your ideas can concern anything from camping vehicles to power mowers—just so long as they save gas.

Send your ideas to the Automobile Club of Michigan, 150 Bagley Ave., Detroit 48226.

We want to do more for you.

Death toll declines

Fuel crisis has effect on traffic

Traffic accidents in Michigan in January claimed 98 lives, a reduction of 89 or nearly 48 per cent compared with 187 during the same month a year ago, according to provisional figures of the state police traffic division.

It was the lowest January toll since 1962 when 94 deaths were recorded. The high total for January was 189 in 1937, which the low for the month was 59 in wartime 1943. The January average in the five years, 1969-73, was 145.

Factors involved in the large reduction included decreases in travel volume and highway speeds apparently influenced by the energy shortage and an economic slowdown.

Meanwhile, Michigan traffic deaths for 1973 are currently reported at 2,213, which was 45 or about two per cent less than 2,258 in 1972. The 1973 annual loss ranks as the state's fifth-worst year. Reports of delayed deaths charged to accidents in January and in 1973 will increase the totals somewhat for those periods.

January building activity decreases

The Van Buren Township Building Department issued 11 building permits during the month of January. This compares with 31 permits issued in January, 1973.

The total estimated construction cost of January building amounted to $64,730 as compared with $254,697 a year ago.

The electrical division of the building department issued 41 permits and collected $1,678 in fees. The heating division issued 14 permits and collected $176 in fees. The plumbing division issued 13 permits and collected $156 in fees.

'Y' offers driving program

Teen drivers' education will be offered for New Boston area residents at the old New Boston Elementary School, 1931 Huron River.

Classes begin on Feb. 19. They will be held Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m. to noon. The fee is $75 plus "Y" membership. This will be a five week course.

For information, call Carol Sun at 285-2010.

Michigan Bell develops plan for cutting pollution emission

The largest privately-owned fleet of cars in the state are being driven under a new "quickie" exhaust emission testing program, aimed at promoting greater fuel economy and cleaner air.

The 7,000 cars and trucks, operated by the Michigan Bell Company, are being tested periodically under the new process to determine just how much pollution is being generated.

According to a company spokesman, the vehicles will be adjusted to meet strict anti-pollution standards during each test period.

"PROPERLY adjusted engines and anti-pollution equipment mean not only cleaner exhaust emissions, but better performance and gas mileage," said David Easlick, Michigan Bell Co. president. "This always is a major consideration, but especially is significant during the fuel shortage."

The company's vehicles will have to meet exhaust emission standards comparable to those used in California and New Jersey, where minimum standards have been set by law.

By use of an electronic exhaust analyzer, the company will be able to check emissions in about 30 seconds. A vehicle found emitting more than a specified limit will be scheduled for adjustments to correct the problem.

EASLICK SAID that company employees will be able to join in a simultaneous program being launched by the Michigan chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a telephone employee community service program.

PCHA delaying hospital decision

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

The "day of decision" to construct a hospital in Taylor will be March 12 for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors.

The board Thursday was presented with the final feasibility study, prepared by the authority's financial consultants, Arthur Young and Company, and a final study on projected need for hospital care into the 1980s, prepared by the University of Michigan Department of Program and Hospital Administration.

"It shows there will be a need for 150 hospital beds in the Taylor area by 1976 and a need for the full 232 bed hospital by fiscal 1980," said PCHA Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti. "At the same time, the report shows that the authority will be more than able to pay for bonds for the construction of the hospital."

Pizzimenti told the board that bids for construction of the $22 million health care facility in Taylor will be opened March 5, and that the board will be called in to a special meeting March 12 to make a "go or no go" decision on the hospital.

"At that time, the board can say 'yes or no' to the bids, and that will determine whether we proceed," Pizzimenti said.

"During the past five years, as a concerned public official, I've questioned the need for a hospital in Taylor," said Wayne Mayor Patrick Norton, a board representative. "At each point, I honestly sought an answer on whether this facility is needed and at each point with the best information available, I made an intellectual choice to proceed."

"This board has made approximately 150 decisions concerning the Taylor facility during the past five years. We'll probably have another 15 decisions before the bids are opened."

"OUTSTANDING FINE ARTS STUDENT — Pat Fry, ninth grader at the South Junior High School in Belleville, has been selected as the "outstanding student of the week" by the fine arts teacher, Gwen Buege. Pat displays a sculptured head of herself in clay. On the wall behind her are an illustrated poster of "Alice Cooper" done in acrylic paint and fluorescent poster colors and India ink drawings made by other students.

Students participate in fine arts classes

South Junior High School in Belleville recently initiated a fine arts class.

Students are admitted on a recommendation from the art teacher. The recommendation process allows a more serious approach to ninth grade art according to Gwen Buege, fine arts teacher.

Ms Buege said so far students have created several India ink drawings illustrating the basics of good composition, size, direction and placement.

One student created a watercolor of the woods which can be viewed from the school's art room.

Poster making which is a part of the fine art class, is a project that is enjoyed by all the participating students, Ms Buege said.

The teacher recently named one student as the "outstanding student of the week." Pat Fry, a ninth grader, created a sculptured head portraying herself.

School awards 24 diplomas

The adult education program in Romulus passed out diplomas to its largest mid-year graduation class, when 24 adults were awarded high school diplomas for participating in the cost-free program sponsored by the Romulus Board of Education.

William Smith, community school director, presented the awards and complimented the graduates on their sacrifice and determination for completing the required classes.

Gloria Chandler and Jack

Bath of the Romulus Board of Education were present for the ceremony. There also were more than 100 family members and guests of the graduates present.

Adults who successfully completed the high school program and received diplomas were: David Allison, William Bennett, Linda Browning, Debra Buhro, Moses Davis, Daniel Deschenes, Cathy Dornes, Sandra Edwards, Gloria Fabinski, Dan Hamilton, Charlotte Harmer, Karen Kendrick, Earle Mosley, Ray Pomeroy, Deborah Powell, Joanna Renner, Charlene Sapienza, Laurene Shipley, John Smouse, Suzanne Templeton, Sharon Thompson, Mary Wagner, Sylvia Williams and Carol Woodside.

Second semester of adult education began this week. People interested in resuming their education are urged to contact the board of education at 941-1600 for counseling and registration information.

Bill to fight hike in local tax rate

Predicting "exorbitant" property tax hikes for thousands of Michigan homeowners this fall, two state senators recently proposed legislation giving taxpayers ammunition to fight the increase.

Senators John Bowman (D-Roseville) and John McCauley (D-Wyandotte) are calling for a constitutional amendment which would require local units of government to lower the tax rate to prevent tax increases as the result of any state or county-ordered hike in assessments.

Local units of government would be forced to reduce the millage sufficiently to offset the effect of the assessment.

"This amendment must be approved to enable homeowners to avoid the sting of an unbearable increase in property taxes," said the senators.

The legislators claim assessment increases of up to 13.5 per cent are anticipated in several cities in the metropolitan area.

Voters will be able to decide on the proposed amendment in the 1974 general election if the legislature agrees to put the issue on the ballot.

The senators said the proposed amendment is being drafted and should be ready for introduction this week.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

For some strange reason, one of Lincoln's letters seems to have received less prominence in history than it deserves. It was a soul-stirring letter to Mrs. Lydia Bixby in Boston, a mother who lost 5 sons in the Civil War. Read it.

"I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have paid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Lincoln wrote the letter PRIOR to his re-election but DELAYED mailing it until AFTER his election for fear the letter may have been used for propaganda or political purposes...His compassion, sentiment and sympathy were not used to buy or solicit votes for his re-election...

PCHA okays change in its pension benefits

A three-month battle by Kurt Heidmann for pension equality in the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) ended last night — a success.

The authority's board of directors Thursday approved Heidmann's proposal for revamping the salaried personnel pension plan. It takes from the higher-paid personnel to give better benefits to the lower salaried personnel a PCHA spokesman said.

Heidmann began his battle with the authority's pension consultants, the Wyatt Company, Nov. 29, when a plan was presented to the board, which would have paid a salaried person in the $55,000 per year bracket $2,270 per month pension for retirement at age 65, and a salaried person earning $7,000 per year for 30 years a $55 monthly pension benefit.

THE PENSION was justified to the board by comparing percentages of pay according to the company, which claimed that the $7,000 per year man would earn 78 per cent of his salary in pension benefits while the higher-salaried person would earn 49.5 per cent.

At that time, Heidmann said: "Don't quote percentages to me when a man can't buy eggs on a percentage."

"Under a proposal such as this, you do dishonor to a man who has worked 30 years and has to go on welfare three years into retirement because of his pension plan."

"I feel a responsibility toward these people on the lower end."

THE NEW plan, adopted by the board benefits those on the lower end of the pay scales. It will be upgraded in April.

Under the new plan, the $7,000 per year employee would earn $481 in pension while the person with $55,000 per year salary would earn $1,461 in pension.

"It benefits the people at the lower end of the pay scale," Heidmann said. "These are the ones who suffer the most when they retire."

Heidmann also said that salaried personnel reitring

Legislator urges work study

By WES THORP
Lansing Correspondent

One way to put some muscle on Michigan's business position is to produce more at the same or less cost, according to a Flint legislator.

To many union members this would mean speeding-up assembly-lines. And to the employers it would mean eliminating unnecessary motion.

Rep. James F. Smith (R-Grand Blanc), however, said that's only part of the whole question of how to increase productivity.

THE STATE'S manufacturing concerns may be lagging behind in productivity, because of their failure to invest money to improve the means of production, he said.

To zero in on how manufacturers can make more for less, Smith has introduced a bill to create a productivity council, composed of members from business and labor.

The council which would have three labor members and three management members would survey the state's manufacturing community for business' which are overpriced, Smith said.

With the help of manufacturing experts from the Michigan Department of Commerce, he said the council would attempt to map out a plan for that particular business to increase its productivity, thus making it more competitive.

"IT IS CRUCIAL when we speak of productivity to make clear that we are not talking about work speedup, old fashioned time and motion and work measurement approaches, or further dehumanization of jobs and work-places," he added.

"Rather we mean more productive and more meaningful jobs for the Michigan worker and better utilization of capital and resources in the production

While foreign manufacturers have been pumping large amounts of money into research and development of means to increase productivity, Smith said that the United States has fallen behind.

A House Republican study on economic development stated that U.S. capital reinvestment is approximately one-third that in Japan.

"BUT JAPAN'S 39 per cent of Gross National Product growth capital reinvestment is singularly the most important reason behind her phenomenal productivity gains," the study said.

The productivity council also would examine several other related areas, including the special problems afflicting all industries, such as absenteeism, high rates of employee turnover.

Huron farmers gain tax relief

A tax break for Huron Township farmers labeled earlier as a "possibility" by township officials has become a certainty.

Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore said the township has received permission from the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation to allow farmers to claim a 20 per cent reduction in property taxes.

"This gives our farmers a good break," Moore said. "It gives them a well-deserved advantage because farm land too long has been over-taxed since it is not located near sewer and water line, and therefore lower in value than developed areas."

A minimum of 10 to a maximum of 80 acres of land used for growing produce will

State board cites enrollment drop

Public school enrollment in Michigan declined 1.7 per cent during 1973, according to the Michigan State Board of Education.

The state board said that preliminary data from the 600 school districts in the state indicates that there were 2,156,323 students attending public schools this year as compared to 2,212,523 during the previous school year.

The decline represents a drop of 37,270 students in school this year.

Including figures for the 1972-73 school year, public school enrollments have dropped by more than 56,000 students, since the state's peak year in 1971-72. The board has attributed the decrease to a lower birth rate in the state.

IN WAYNE County enrollment figures show a drop of more than 20,000 students during the year. Figures for 1972-73 set enrollment at 565,709. However, this year's preliminary tally placed that figure at 543,363 students.

Preliminary reports also indicate that nearly two-thirds of the total drop in enrollments occurred in Wayne County, which showed a figure of 24,846 fewer students attending classes.

The board said it has not been able to finalize enrollment figures because of legislative action, which created alternate count days in the state.

The alternate days were established because of three school districts which were not in session on the fourth Friday after Labor Day, the regular count day.

AS A RESULT school districts can now use the regular count day in September, the fourth Friday after school is in session or Nov. 9 as their official count day.

The school board said that enrollment was down in local school districts in 35 of the 58 intermediate districts, but increased in 22 of the intermediate school districts. Only one, Iosco Intermediate School District, remained unchanged.

2. In Memoriam

WE MISS our son Jerry so very very much. Howard Watkins Family. 34966 Richard St. Wayne.

PHYLLIS B. COLLINS — In loving memory of our dear mother, whom God called to his side one year ago today, Feb. 5, 1973. Our Mom was someone special, with an understanding heart. When others lost their faith in us, that's when hers would start. Mom was someone lovely. Who had the sweetest way of giving us encouragement, when skies were looking grey. Now as we turn the pages and recall each single thought, we remember all the happiness that loving her has brought. Sadly missed by her loving children: Loretta, Eugene, Harold, Kenneth, Sherron.

"FOR BUYERS ONLY"

HOME OWNERSHIP: Buying a home, financial authorities say, is one of the best inflation hedges available to the average family. Prices of new homes have been rising in recent years at about 7 per cent annually. Even if you have to stretch a bit to buy a house at today's prices, chances are that will prove cheaper than waiting until later.
